

The Dead Sea, the river Jordan and Jericho. The road is a mere trail, very steep and rocky, and the country infested with Bedouins. A herd of sheep, goats, and donkeys over this steep, stony, poor section. It is necessary to have the protection of the Bedouins in traveling through this section. We were accompanied by a Bedouin, a young man, who accompanied our party. The road or trail is about the worst I have seen, even in Palestine. Our horses, however, were sure-footed and very good travelers over the rough stony trail and we soon reached the village of Bethany. The Mount of Olives. We visited the tomb of Lazarus and the house of Mary and Martha. The scene in the life of the Savior which occurred in and about the Mount of Olives in the Jewish temple of St. John. The village is a small, dirty, dingy one, and contains about 500 inhabitants. The principal street is well paved on account of being so steep and stony.

Half a mile east of Bethany is the "Apocryphal Spring" in the edge of the wilderness. This is a small spring which is believed to have been the source of the Jordan. It is the only spring on the east side of Jerusalem for many miles. Half way to Apocryphal Spring, the house of the Good Samaritan which is the traditional place of the parable of the good shepherd, where the certain man going "down from Jerusalem" was overtaken by thieves and robbers.

Before reaching the valley of the Jordan we came in sight of the mountains of Moab, which look very much like the Blue mountains in Oregon. The road is very rough from the range. The road topped around in the range. Mt. Nebo which Moses ascended to view the promised land.

THE VALLEY OF JORDAN. Soon the north end of the Dead Sea comes in view and across the valley of the Jordan. We now are descending into the valley. The road is the worst I have traveled in Palestine and our horses could only go forward in a slow walk. In the course of a couple of hours we reached the valley and in two miles more over a level but stony road we reached the Jordan. The water is very warm and the current is very strong. The water is very warm and the current is very strong. The water is very warm and the current is very strong.

From Jericho the trail to the Dead Sea runs in a southerly direction and is distant about ten miles. On the route the ancient battlefield of Gilgal is passed. The plain is level and covered with a shrub much resembling the grass of the Jordan. Only a few trees are left of the forest which once grew here. The weather was very warm—thermometer 80 degrees in the sun and shade. We stayed on the shore of the Dead Sea for some time. The water is very warm and the current is very strong. The water is very warm and the current is very strong.

There being nothing at this place to detain us, we traveled about seven miles northward to the Jordan, a stream much like Long Tom in Oregon, but very muddy, caused by the sand which is carried down from the mountains. The water of which flows into it. A few bushes and a few willows, very much as Long Tom is, and a few of the same species. Our party and I increased our camp to the Jordan. We had lunch under the shade of the trees at the reputed spot of the baptism of Christ by St. John. We returned to Jericho, distant about ten miles, where we had a very good visit to the Dead Sea and the river Jordan was sufficient.

BACK TO JERUSALEM. We returned to Jerusalem by the same "hard road to travel" and took another survey of the city of Jerusalem from the top of the Mount of Olives, from which it presents the best appearance. The city is a very old one, and the walls which are to be seen, and the tower from this point is a fine one. We ascended the mountain and visited the tomb of the Virgin and the Garden of Gethsemane. The garden is a very old one, and the walls which are to be seen, and the tower from this point is a fine one.

no wharves and everything is landed by lighters from the ship which anchors about a quarter of a mile from the shore. Verdict of Not Guilty in the Woolstein Trial.

A TRIBUTE TO JUDGE WILLIAMS. A colored man elected Mayor of a California town—Another Rich Coal Find—Disastrous Fire at Bodie.

LOS ANGELES, April 14.—In the Woolstein case today, District Attorney Dwyer made the case against the defendant, the prosecution Judge Cheney then delivered the charges to the jury, and at 5 o'clock they retired to deliberate on a verdict. They were absent but ten minutes. On their return, Judge Cheney laid his head on a desk and began sobbing violently. Judge Cheney, anticipating a demonstration, warned the spectators against any display of emotion. He then called the roll, and in answer to his question the foreman arose and announced the verdict as follows: "We, the jury, find defendant, Hattie Woolstein, not guilty."

On hearing the words of acquittal the prisoner gave a start and uttered a faint cry. There was a murmur of applause among the spectators. Judge Cheney then called the roll, and in answer to his question the foreman arose and announced the verdict as follows: "We, the jury, find defendant, Hattie Woolstein, not guilty."

OLD Mr. Woolstein, on hearing the verdict, burst in tears and threw his arms around his daughter. After quiet had been restored, the judge thanked the jury and dismissed them, and then ordered Hattie discharged. The latter shook hands with each jurymen and a number of ladies and others in the courtroom. Outside a hack was waiting, and as the Woolstein party entered it and drove away the great crowd cheered themselves hoarse.

THE OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD DEPT. situated a mile from the business portion of town, caught fire today. A little before noon, and burned to the ground. No one was hurt at the depot at the time the fire started, but passengers by managed to break into the office and remove all articles of value, except the cash, which was lost. The building was a two-story structure, and the fire department was called. The fire was probably a spark from the 11 o'clock freight train. Agent Skinner has improved an engine, and the fire was caused by a spark from the engine.

HOUSE-BUILDERS ORGANIZE. The Willamette Valley Horse Breeders' Association. A. O. C. & D. Duke Burial.

STATION SHOW. The eighth annual station show, of horses of Marion and adjoining counties, took place at the station here today. The display of horses was not so large as usual, though the day was fine and the attendance was good. About thirty stallions were exhibited.

RACE FREDUCING DYING. A Colored Man Elected Mayor of Wheatland, California.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Colored residents here are delighted with the fact that Wheatland, this state, E. P. Dwyer, a colored man, was yesterday elected mayor, the first colored man it is said, ever honored with the office of chief magistrate. He has held the office of justice of the peace a number of years, and given entire satisfaction by his decisions. He was formerly a peddler of goods, and a very honest, intelligent, and a man of considerable ability. Although he is a strong republican, he was elected by democratic votes in the board of directors.

ANOTHER COAL STRIKE. It Will Be Developed by a Road from Port Townsend.

PORT TOWNSEND, April 14.—The Port Townsend Coal Company, who have had prospectors on the Quimper peninsula for some time past, have at last discovered the lead, from which it is believed that a large deposit of coal will be found. The company has been working on the peninsula for some time, and the discovery of the lead is a great success for them.

CALIFORNIA. Railroad News and Rumor.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Rumored men here say business in railway circles is comparatively quiet, though there is an under current of expectation evident among men of affairs. The great Western roads are reported to have expressed their belief that rates in the West and Northwest can never be advanced to the point where they would be a serious burden to the people. This seems to indicate, according to some that millions have been expended in the hope of their being profitable, but to prevent ruinous competition.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC are making some considerable progress in the construction of the line from Montreal to Port Arthur, it is said, and from San Francisco and return $50,000,000. The line is a very long one, and the construction is a great task. The line is a very long one, and the construction is a great task.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL NOTES. San Francisco, April 14.—Wm. Redell, agent of the Oregonian, has been elected to the position of editor of the paper. The paper is a very old one, and the election is a great success for him.

The Central Republican Club Holds a Rousing Rally.

Amplified Opening of the Campaign—Free Base Ball Game to Day—Blind Men Falls Into a Dollar-Perpetual Notes.

The largest political meeting so far in the campaign was held in Hall & Blott's hall last night by the Central Republican Club, and it would be safe to say no more enthusiastic and harmonious gathering has yet met in the city. These were quite a large number in the audience. Democrats, too, but a few in number were in attendance.

John H. Hall, chairman, called the club to order, and the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting were omitted. The Star Spangled Banner with very fine effect, and with the aid of the orchestra, and the opening song, which was heartily applauded.

Mr. H. H. Northrup then addressed the club. He said: "I have my reasons for being a republican, and I have my reasons for being a republican. I have my reasons for being a republican, and I have my reasons for being a republican. I have my reasons for being a republican, and I have my reasons for being a republican."

THE LOWER CALIFORNIA GOLD STRIKE. SAN DIEGO, April 14.—The special correspondent of the San Diego Star who was sent to San Diego to report on the gold strike, has returned with the following report: "The gold strike in Lower California is a very large one, and the gold is of a very high quality.
